

---

TSR Series

---

Description

Features

When arrived at adjusted temperature and shut off the power, it doesn't reset automatically and should be restarted artificially by pressing the reset button when needed as a one pole single switch device system. When lost the first adjustability of the other equipment, this product can be used as a safety device. You can set up the temperature in advance while manufacturing and you can choose the set-up temperature up to 350°C at most.